On the model page, click [Edit Product], when the edit page loads up, on the righthand side there's the Materials Selector, click the 0.00 value and enter your markup, hit return to set the final price and then when you've finished setting your prices, click [Update Materials & Pricing] to save the changes.

I'm on Google Chrome on Mac. The $0.00 link does not respond to clicks.

Thanks

I just tried in Chrome, and it's working for me. What you want to do is double click the $ amount and it should highlight it. Then type in the markup you desire.

I marked up my two models about 20 minutes ago yet when I view my shop they are still at their original price. How long till they updated?

When you view your products you see your price, which does not include your markup. So log out and view your models and you should see the price that others see.

After you set the price and click [Update Materials & Pricing] the price to others will change, however the price that you see will not change unless you are logged out.
