Hello!

One night I was just hanging around a bar, and when I got out I found this little guy:

A hedgehog who had no dramas with spending a few minutes with me and my friends in a cold night. After with all the good manners he just walked away and greeted us with a warm goodbye.

Inspired by such great mixture of cuteness and style, I sketched and modelled my own classy hedgehog. And here is the result!

Thanks to shapeways and its great service I was able to print it and have it as my most proud decoration at home:

Jep, The Classy Hedgehog

Please tell me if you like it! and any suggestions are very welcome, I am brand new in 3D printing!
Thank you for reading!
