Hello to all. I am the creator of the www.cardfighterproject.com
I am currently reinventing the project and am in need of help from a modeler. The idea is fairly simple... This counter is similar to what is used with Heroclicks. It's 2 pieces that are separate that will snap together to make one piece. You turn the top dial to show in the window a number (1-20) or if its possible to show numbers 1-30.

I would also like to have the card fighters project logo on it if possible.

If you are interested and think that you could tackle this please respond here.

Sorry I am away for the holiday so I don't have access to my computer so I drew a quick image to help explain what I'm looking for.

Yeah I can do this.

Please email me at jfrsys@yahoo.com and we can talk out the details.

Thanks,
Joseph
