Hi, I'm Joe from Maryland.

I've been 3d modeling for about 5 or so years now. I am only 19 and a hard working college student. With my workload at school I can't really hold a regular job so on and off I work for John Farr Lighting and Design. On the side I'd like to make a few pennies modeling on 3d model stores like TurboSquid. One of my friends discovered this not a week ago and showed it to me. Hopefully my income from here will be better than there.

Well hope to discuss stuff all over these forums soon. See you around.

If it weren't for the DC part I'd think you were my cousin. His name is Joe also, from Maryland going to school, wanted to do game design. Your last name doesn't begin with an S does it?
