Hi guys,

I previously created a ring out of glossy silver from shapeways and it turned out fantastic, so I thought i'd try my luck again and push the limits a bit.

Once again it turned out very nicely!

Enjoy!

Wow, it looks super thin... just what is the thickness of the thinnest areas?

Hi Glenn,

The thinnest part of the design is 0.85 mm.

It may seem thin but it's actually quite a sturdy little ring!

agree with everyone here, the balance of material in the design is very nice.
