Hi,

I've moved this thread to the '3D Modeler Needed' forum.

What size did you want them? Did you want them to look 'quilted'?
This test model is 3/8" - 9.525mm square, 1.5mm thick. with a 3.5mm eyelet

Hi
Your daisy charm is exactly wat I am looking for
In several different quilt block styles Wat material is that made from ?

At the size it is now, it could be any of the 'plastic' materials and silver.

Here's another. My interpretation of '508' Same basic size.

hi
the ones i have are approx 12mm widex15mm high
would you like me to send you a file with several different types of quilt blocks?

split rail
ohio star
fox and geese
card trick
log cabin
pin wheel
these are names of just a few:)
thank you
nicole

Sure, send the file by PM
Do you want me to scale the 507 and 508 to15mm x 12mm? How thick do you want them? 3mm?
Here is the 508. The corners are rounded because you get what are known as 'degenerated faces and edges' can you send me the 507 as the same file type so i can open it?

Have a couple of questions on getting a large qty?

In an earlier conversation with another person here they said i might b able to have a large amount made and then I could finish them? Like a jeweler would do? If I was interested in that what would be the prices?
thank you
nicole

these are kind of detailed you can just use them as an idea.
thank you
Nicole

This is awesome!!
yes 3mm thick would b perfect.
and some where around 12mmx15mm would b great
thank you
