Hey fellow Shappies,

Recently there was a comment on people looking for work in the Modelers needed section. Shapeways felt it was a valid point that Modelers for Hire should have their own section.

So seeing we now have the new Modelers for Hire section, I have moved all Modelers for Hire from the first page of the Modelers Needed section over to the Modelers for Hire section.

From now on, if you'd like to offer your services post in the Modelers for Hire section

http://www.shapeways.com/forum/index.php?t=thread&frm_id=98&S=55537894498f749474987deacfb4930 and follow the guidelines Bart has set up for that section.

For those looking for help, continue to post here and one of your fellow helpful Shappies will contact you, or search through the new section to see if someone there has the skill set and price already set up that you are looking for.

Thanks,
Mike
