A LEGO scaled version of the Master Sword, a blade featured in The Legend Of Zelda.

This design is based upon the Wind Waker version of the Sword hence why it is larger in the hands of a LEGO Minifigure.

The model is in polished sterling silver. I had a pin added to the sword so I could use it as a Kilt pin. The Kilt used in the background is the Inglis Tartan, my family tartan.

The first two pictures were taken before the pin was added!

Wicked job. Could I ask where you got the pin fittings from?

The juxtaposition of sterling silver with Lego plastic is really something.

Hi Glenn,

Thanks! The silver pin fittings were attached by a jeweller, though I may solder them on myself in the future if I find the suitable components online.
