Hey everyone!

We've made some improvements to the My Model page! We're really excited about this update and want to tell you what this means for you. We're enabling you to search through your models right from within the page, view only a specific set of models, and access the edit model page in just one click! We hope that these new and improved tools make creating even easier.

To read up on the details of the improvements we've made make sure to check out the blog: "Take a Peek at the Improvements We've Made to the My Models Page on Shapeways".

If you have any feedback or thoughts to send our way visit the feedback thread "Discussion and Feedback on My Models Page Improvements" in the Bug Reporting & Site Feedback section of the forums. We look forward to hearing from you!
