Hi all,

I...

I...

I...

I'm too poor to order anything just yet.

BUT, I've started a store for my pendants and stuff.

I'm from USA, East Coast.

I come from a fine arts/design background.

Illustrator is my strong point, photoshop coming in a strong second.

But, I was raised in a mechanical household.

I'm currently working as a designer for a manufacturer.

We primarily use illustrator and photoshop, but I've been learning Autodesk Inventor for about a year now.

It's fun software. I thoroughly enjoy learning it.

I've been aware of 3D printing but time passes so fast, i cant believe it's available for all of us now as a service. It's AWESOME!.

The moving parts bit is particularly exciting.

In any case, here's my store.

and here's my blog.

rithforms.blogspot.com

Thanks!

Rith.
