Made this Mom Duck and Baby Duck in Rhino 3D specifically for a friend's newborn...came out awesome in the glazed ceramics material.

Having worked with 3D Printers before this model came out much better than what I was expecting! Definatly using shapeways again!

My 1 year old loves ducks, very cute. Why not pastel yellow?

The main reason for the white color was so that it would blend with the baby room's wall colors. Would love to know just how saturated the yellow color is?

I haven't seen it first hand myself. I should be seeing black in about a week.

There are some color samples on the materials page, but I sure will be posting it when it arrives.
