Not sure if this is the right place, but it is slightly to do with the shops. (Edit, just realised there is a bug report section... That's what I get for typing this just as I wake up, sorry.)

Just been informed by a customer that when they're trying to order one of my pendants (the Twilight Sparkle one, if that helps), they get as far as the address screen, then the Confirmation button doesn't do anything. When hovering over the link, it came up with "javascript:void(0);"

I have tried to replicate this myself, and only with multiple clicks can I access the next screen.

Hi there!

I just replicated this, and it's working fine.

Best,
Natalia

It does appear to be working now, sorry if I wasted anyone's time.
