so I'm an animation student, and I've had extensive classes in 3D modeling,

I would love to jump into shapeways and start modeling some objects, but I've kind of run into a bit of artist's block when it comes to ideas.

I think if I were to partner up with someone who has a bit of artsy/craftsy ideas is maybe able to send sketches via email, and has some good business sense we might be able to partner up, and split the costs.

if you're looking to partner up with a 3D modeler who is willing to bring your ideas to life, then feel free to contact me @ cb7.animation@gmail.com
