
Subject: Changing material in cart impossible when not logged in
Posted by scientist2010 on Tue, 02 Oct 2012 15:39:01 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hello,

I just simulated a customer:
I did not log in, but added some products to my cart.
Then I tried to change the material I wanted to order it in, but it did not work.
That means, that I can choose a material in the cart menu, but the site does not change it.

When you use the Lab-feature of adding sets you are dependent on being able to change the material in your cart, because a customer could like a material better than the default one.

It is also impossible to get back to your cart "settings" once you proceeded through login in the payment process.

-> There is no chance to change, when you had not been logged on.

It would be great if you fixed it rapidly

Yours, Marie

PS:

This problem appears no matter if you add sets or usual products, but always when you are not logged on.

I tested it several times and always reset my browser before doing so.

Subject: Re: Changing material in cart impossible when not logged in
Posted by stonysmith on Tue, 02 Oct 2012 17:30:44 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Which browser and Operating System are you using?

Subject: Re: Changing material in cart impossible when not logged in
Posted by scientist2010 on Wed, 03 Oct 2012 15:05:37 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Great, that you already take care for it!
I use Safari 5.1.5 as a browser, my computer is running OS X (10.7.3) if that helps.
Thanks, Marie
