I have designed "Vortex" bowl for strong and flexible plastic, as a decorative centerpiece or to be used to contain potpourri. Potpourri is a natural air freshener made from dried flowers, it is used to make rooms smell fresh.

Nice design that allows air to move through the petals, etc. Personally, I would have made it smaller - that's going to be quite expensive isn't it (although you don't say what size it is)?

Hi lensman, thanks for your message.

As you can see, at the end of my first message there is the link to product page, where you can find all information including dimensions : cm: 21.134 w x 16.456 d x 10.004 h .

Thanks for your suggestion, I will try to scale it, just a little, because its height is 10 cm and lower it would lose its beautiful appearance (for me, of course).
