Welcome! You have some interesting designs there. Have you had any of them printed yet? As a rule, models sell better if you include actual photography in your shop - not only renders.

Cheers,

Bart

I'm just saying that you would probably sell more if you used photographs. Your choice, of course

Cheers,

Bart

Are you just selling the CAD models, or are you trying to sell the prints as well. You have to print at least one! Nothing like holding your own creation in your hand!

Also tell us more about you, we love to know our community!

Wish u all the best mate!

I wish to sell my models too, but im broke and dont have the money to ship any models to my country.

Im planning on making some money through some other ventures. its a long shot but once i get some ground to stand on, ill get busy with shapeways!
