Hi,

Heart Cage Pendant I just received this (in time for xmas!) and I am pretty happy with it.

The second iteration of this design - it needed beefing up to survive the polishing process. A quick dip in some silver cleaner to remove the brown stains (is this normal with silver?) and here we are.

I hope you like it, thanks and happy holidays.

Love it! Seriously, awesome job .

With brown stains you mean like this black powder/stuff in hard to get to corners?

Hi,

thanks for your feedback, I appreciate it.

Perhaps you can see in the following picture, where the head of the arrow exits the heart. There are the remains, AFTER cleaning. It was, for me a brown colour almost rusty. Not really a powder, more a dried liquid deposit.

It's clearly a hard to get at spot. I tried soapy water first, which achieved nothing, and then a commercial silver cleaning dip.
