Hi guys

I've signed in for google analytics and assigned my SW shop address for my "site".

If anyone goes to one of my models does it count in google analytics? or they count only entries for the shop page.

If not, can i do something for it to count?

Thanks

BA.tech

Once, the Google analytics kick in, 24-48 hours (depends on your timezone and the time you set it up compared to Google's timezone) you'll be able to see info for each and every model page in your shop.

[edit]You need to c&p the Google analytics code into your My Shop page.

I tried to follow the tutorial for google analytics...

but it seems that things had changed since the tutorial was made : where do you fill in the google analytics code now ?
