Hi Everyone,

I'm a professional 3d freelancer, my core business is delivering high-quality digital imaging solutions, from initial concept through to final delivery. Clients include global corporations, brands & design/media agencies in the UK & abroad.

My first experience with 3d printing was in 2005, working with math-model specialist, Bathsheba Grossman. Since then I have produced many works under NDA for a large number of corporate clients, yet would love to work direct with the wider public as 3d printing becomes ever more democratized.

my website portfolio:

I'm UK based, I model primarily in Lightwave 3D & have a full suite of export software to virtually every conceivable format.
My hourly rate is Â£30hr [which currently translates to $48hr].

If you wish to discuss possibilities do drop me a line at:

Many thanks for reading, and best wishes for all your modelling projects.
