Hi everyone,

I have an Acer Liquid Glow E330 smartphone and was looking for a case to protect it, but as it turns out there are none. A friend told me about the possibilities of 3D printing, but as I don't really have any experience with 3D modelling, I was hoping someone else could create one for me.

I was thinking along the lines of your typical Iphone case, but then modelled after my smartphone. Perhaps with some cool design .

Is there anyone who could help me? Also, I'd like to have an indication of the costs.

Please reply to this message.

Greetings,

Vera
