Hey all -

I need a 3D modeler for a quick project. I had a custom die created to commemorate a game that closed, and there was a lot of interest in others getting similar dice created. Due to some challenges with getting money and shipping for this item all over the world, I'm hoping to setup a shop on Shapeways to make it so that people can order on demand, as needed.

As I said, I have the original die already created and in hand, and I have the images I want on all 12 sides in vector images.

PM me with questions.

Thanks
-Drew
