In this contest (in the blog) it is stated:

'Tag a new or existing design on Shapeways with the tag wedding and the category tag (decor, gift or bridal accessory) '

1. What does this mean, exactly?
 2. If you search SW with 'Wedding Bridal Accessory' the first item is a robot that has no associations whatsoever with weddings, and the second item is a set of gas station accessories by StonySmith. What else do you need at a wedding?

Obviously, you need gas to get from the ceremony to the honeymoon. <grin>

If you need gas to get to a wedding, then surely you didn't pay the chauffeur enough?

What blog post - when was it posted?

Paul

Yeah, I was thinking of entering a design I have in mind, but there is no good way to see what has been entered to find out what the competition is. Also, I don't feel confident that my entry would even be counted since I cannot find a clear indication of what has already been entered.

I think next time an additional requirement for entering would be to submit a link to the entry in the blog or forum, like in the recent weekend contests.

Here is everything that has the tag "wedding"
so I believe all of these are potential contestants

How do we find 'categories' again?
decor, gift or bridal accessory categories are hding from me just now.

Cheers,
Paul
