There seems to be a bug in the My Models page as models I've deleted keep on showing up. They are listed as Not For Sale and don't have a picture associated with them. Also clicking on the model leads to a "Page Not Found" error. This suggests that the models have been deleted but some information has been missed. What's even odder is that if I delete them again then they disappear for a while only to re-appear later.

Example model numbers (in case they'll help to track down the problem) include: 896820, 903252 and 903343 -- these are all private models but anyone debugging the issue should at least be able to use the numbers to check the underlying database to see what's going on.

Hey PenistoneRailwayWorks,

Thank you for bringing this bug to our attention. We've released a patch specifically for this issue - can you let us know here if everything is working now?

Thanks!

Yep, whatever you changed seems to have fixed it, as those deleted models have now disappeared from My Models. If I see the same problem again in the future I'll let you know.

Thanks!
