I currently have a tap handle that I send through large production runs. But I currently have the need for a smaller version of it, but not on the scale to justify large production runs.

Looking for a designer to take an existing handle and model it on a smaller scale in 3D to have printed.

Hey Pete,

I'm also very capable of doing the job. If you're interested, I can send you some examples of my work through email.

If you're looking for good work for a fair price: contact me! charlottemarsman@hotmail.com.

Kind regards,
Charlotte Marsman
