Very nice work. When you upload your images, there is a link to automatically add the code to insert your image in the post. I did this for you, as some will skip over if your images aren't immediately visible.

Very good work. Always nice to see some detailed work just to get an idea of what works and what doesn't. I'll shortly be posting a pendant that I had Shapeways print in silver - it was very delicate and looking at it in real life I was amazed it didn't get rejected!... Looking forward to seeing your oxidised heart.
