I had all these order for xmas presents, but have only just photographed them. The chiminea needs some work on the design to make it safe

Hope they give insight to people designing tea light holders.

The models look great!

I've had the same with a tealight model of mine, if the "chimney" diameter is adjusted to 50 mm then you should be safe or you can go for ledlights like i did.

Thank you GAD. I may change the diameter. Prefer real tea lights to LED.
