I have a very simple game idea that I already made a prototype for... Now I just need a cool design. I am looking for someone, preferably in Cincinnati, who is creative enough to make a fun design, but technical enough to make real drawings so I can have it quoted and made.

Toy design experience would be awesome!

Please send examples of your work.

Hey shwabble,

I do a lot of freelance toy design for model kits and the gaming industry. You can check out my portfolio here:

I'll pm you my email address. Let me know if you're interested.

Thanks,
-Tyler

I am 3D modeler with 8 years of work experience in the simulation and gaming industries.

Have worked on toys before. See my works on my website www.ComesToLife.com
Robocop models were done for a toy company.
Some cars were done for HotWheels
Buildings are all for architecture companies.

In addition to modeling, I can do rendering as well and therefore can create needed illustrations for presentation purposes.
Cheers.
