not a 3d printer but it's a 3d pen printer, this means we can draw art in real life not to be limited on paper hahah,

This is amazing !!!

I know one of the cofounders slightly, and now I feel unjustifiably proud to have been part of the viral epicenter of that.

He's got his work cut out for him now though: gotta think of some stretch goals quick!

Meanwhile, here's something similar in wax: <http://www.dumatt.com/Tools/mattgun.html>

Yes I have read articles about first 3D printing pen too ! This is amazing.. what else is going to show up ? little pens that everyone could keep with themselves and print their ideas everywhere when they want ? 3D printing is really going to take the top in everyday life .
