What do you guys think of this? Would there be anyone who would actually want one? Any feedback would be greatly appreciated!

I modeled it using Blender. The materials and lighting were made by Jay Artist:

Need to make your item public so we can see it.

Okay, it should be public now. I may open up a shop later today.

Well, you could always use a straw... .

Yeah, it is more of a decoration piece.

Beautiful design! I agree it would be a little hard to drink from but I think the design makes up for this. I too use blender.

Looks good and pretty.

If you use blender I recommend you to use ChromRuler

<http://www.ewocprojects.be/chromruler.html> it is better than Caliper , but that one is good for visualization.
