If imagination was better, we didn't need 3D printers

Yes thats true, just imagining something won't let you hold it in your'e hands so 3Dprinting is better.

But if the printers could print everything we imagine they would be called replicators ?

Ahhhh! So fabulous. Loving your faux-collar necklace.

I'm just about to start my first 3D project . . . Envisioning something rather artsy, yet wearable (like the Chris Johanson sculpture attached!)

Your work looks so professional! I'm so excited to get started!

Thanks for the nice compliments

Chris Johanson is a great source for inspiration, we look forward to seeing your designs on Shapeways !
