I am once again unable to upload pictures.

Whatever I click on the browse button and click "open" (or whether after doing I click on the file name and click return), nothing happens. The previous time I tried, the latter at least worked (though it caused IE to recover the tab), but even that does now not work.

I have about twenty or thirty models to upload photos for and this is infuriating (especially since the problem doesn't appear to have been addressed, despite being reported nine months ago.)

IE 8, Win XP
