Well, it's been a while ago since my ring arrived, and i've worn it already for quite some time, but i never shared the photo's with you guys, so here it is!

Polishing it was quite a bitch, and as you can see, i'm not done yet. Does anybody have any tips or tricks on how i can polish the small beams between the two rings?

Just a shot in the dark. I haven't tried it, but how about a rock tumbler with a polishing sand? Don't know if that would smooth the edges too much.
