Weird thing; I've been perusing the board today, and found that for some reason posts from Jeff and Youknowwho4eva (that I've found so far) weren't showing up; apparently I was ignoring them. I've never put anyone on my ignore list.

Obviously it's not really a problem, as it's easily undone with a click, but just raising the warning flag.

You were ignoring me :(. This is concerning. Second forum issue brought to my attention today... But I don't have the power to figure it out or fix it.

Same with me. Random people I don't know are ignored by me, even though I never blocked anyone.

Found myself casually ignoring Virtox and Whystler yesterday, as well.

Nor can I. But when I'm scrolling down in a thread, I'll occasionally notice a missing post; this basically has just the blue bar from the top of the post saying something like "post by  has been ignored", and gives you the option to stop ignoring that user.

This has hopefully been fixed. The Dev's are monitoring the ignore lists to see if they go wacky again.
