I tried to create something in Ringpoem and got an error message asking me to back up and correct the errors. There are no errors indicated. The navigation buttons don't work, either.

Windows XP Pro, reinstalled Java, cleared cache."

WTF?

Did you change the text in step 1? If so, could you share the text you entered?

You can PM me if want to keep it private.

Thanks!

Robert

Was this ever resolved? I'm seeing the same problem described above, and it happens for me the same way on different machines, both windows and mac. Same symptom no matter what text is entered, and clearing java cache has no effect. I notice 3d pane never refreshes after the first paint - feels like a bug.

No it was never resolved. I got tired and gave up.

I assume that it has to do with my graphics card. The machine I was using has an Nvidia Quadro FX card in it, which is really powerful but not too common.
