Hi all!

I'm really glad I've come across this website (company)! I've always seen stuff on tv about rapid prototyping and 3D printing and stuff but never knew (until now) that this was available for consumers to access

Anyway, my name is Jeroen and new here! I'm using Sketchup to make some 3D things when I've got some spare time... I'm not really good at it, but I like the things I manage to create and have fun doing it (which is the most important thing!).

I already uploaded a design here to the website which I'm getting made and I'm really curious how it works out

If you have any questions, always feel free to ask!

Bye!

Welcome to the community. If you have Sketchup questions, there are several Sketchup users in the community. Just ask and someone will be sure to help.
