Hi all,

we had a small site update today.

Bugfix cocreator models in mydesigns

It seemed that cocreator models that countless users had put in their basket appeared in the mydesigns page of the template owners. As the cocreator models then had the template owners as owner of the cocreator model, they couldn't order it. This has been fixed.

Improvements on the model upload chain.

We made some improvements on the model upload chain, which should make large models go faster through the upload chain and thus not delay other models so much that come after them.

Best regards,

Barry
