Just noticed: the number of visitors to my shop over the past 4 days has been around 10 a day - at least according to google analytics, which could be broken too of course.

This is from an average amount of visitors of about 150 / day, with spikes of up to 650 visitors.

Something broken?

The custom analytics code is missing from the item page source.

Currently the Analytics code is only on the main page of a shop.

I wonder if the new Google Analytics "Try Google Ad Planner" link which reveals shapeways sensitive data regarding monthly traffic by tracked cookies has anything to do with that ...

Is there any word from Shapeways on when/if they might be fixing this?
