Anybody else having problems viewing their Order Overview recently? Used to open just fine (last checked maybe a month ago), but now I get the error "The file is in a different format than specified by the file extension" and it comes across as mostly gibberish with a few of my product names thrown in there. Curious if it's a botched change in formatting or I'm the only one seeing this error.

Thanks for your time!

Thanks, Chris. Didn't occur to me to check the general section; I just figured it would only affect shop owners so I just checked the Shops subforum. Anyhow, glad it's being worked on.
