just recieved my first model. so posted it and thought id say hi.

architectural modemaker (physical models) by trade but giving CAD a go.

just a quick question aswell.....when you polish WSF, is it sand blasted or is that too aggressive?

Welcome, you can give your physical models some added wow with some 3D printed bits! The polished WSF is tumbled. You can learn more here thanks for the link, it helped sadly projects turn over too quickly. so until shapeways has a uk based print shop, its quicker and cheaper to get from similar sources in the uk.

thanks again
