Why? What are you trying to accomplish?

I can agree that it might make sense if you're trying to send a gift.

You should post such a suggestion on feedback.shapeways.com and let others vote for it.

Thats exactly what I want , so I can avoid getting hammered by customs .

Well.. I don't know that it's a good idea to try to avoid the tax man!

At least.. not to say so in public.

But I am actually sending gifts , along with other gifts as people do .

The problem is im not in the US to do it myself ,so it helps me meet customs quota to have the sender do it instead - if not then its simply pointless , as who sends gifts to people with price tags / billing ?

For what its worth - I dont esp like the idea of killing the planet either - oxygen's resources arent as great as people think.
