I was asked for special (reduced) markups for special customers.

For example someone wants to buy 100 pieces and I want to reduce my markup for him since he is a mass buyer.

I wonder if that can be achieved currently?

Only idea I have is to loadup an item which consists of 100 pieces?

Any other ideas ...

I wonder if it would be cheaper to produce a casting mold for 100 pieces. Maybe a new idea for Shapeways to provide mass production services? For not too complex models and not too many copies, silicone rubber works good:

Of course, this is not possible for things like the nice Spiral Cage mentioned in the blog.
